++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Chance of showers for eastern areas, otherwise dry and sunny.

Today:
Many areas dry with long sunny spells, once any early patchy mist or fog clears. However, eastern areas, especially Lincolnshire, will be cloudier for much of today with a chance of scattered sometimes heavy showers. Later the showers fade away. Maximum temperature 21 deg C (70 deg F).

Tonight:
Dry with areas of cloud at times, but also clear spells, which may allow some patchy mist and fog to form in prone locations. Minimum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Tuesday:
Any early patchy mist and fog will soon clear. Then dry with patchy cloud, but also sunny periods. Light onshore winds will develop, keeping the Lincolnshire coast slightly cooler. Maximum temperature 21 deg C (70 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
There will be large amounts of dry weather, apart for probably some patchy light rain at first Thursday. Becoming breezy for Thursday and windy for Friday. Temperatures near average.
